

The Attorney General of Indiana has recommended that we contact the FCC regarding the proposed federal preemption of state laws regarding telephone privacy. My time is extremely valuable and I do not have the time to put up with onerous telephone solicitations. Also, this is a case of the Federal Gov't stepping on the rights of states and individuals. I thought a Republican administration would be more likely to respect state rights, individual privacy, and family values. Apparently not... My respect for the republican party is now lower...
